

Were you born between 1944 and 1964? If your answer is “yes,” then marketers most times refer to you as a Baby Boomer, a name given to the generation of Americans born during the “baby boom” after World War II. Boomers comprise approximately 80 million of the nation’s employees and respond to symbols of recognition such as titles, money and other status symbols, or indications of peer recognition. They value individual choice, community involvement, prosperity, ownership, self-actualizing, as well as health and wellness. The Baby Boomer Generation has witnessed and participated in some of the greatest social changes in the country’s history during the 1960s and 1970s with the Civil Rights Movement and the Women’s Movement. Celebrate being a “Boomer” on Recognition Day June 21st, and congratulate yourself for your many accomplishments!
